Q: hadoop Job tracker with multiple machines I have a 1 node cluster running and it is working as expected. I wish to add more nodes, which is not a problem as the existing cluster is small enough to fit on one node. However, the question I have is how to control the job tracker that the new added nodes communicate to. It is my understanding that the job tracker will decide which machine runs which job, and that the job tracker will select one node (or more) to run a job. 82157476af
